Stereotypes about Northerners are reinforced in the scene Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez in the film "Brassed Off" Julia Wehner, 2012-02-29 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 2/3 University of Duisburg Essen language English abstract Stereotypes are human nature and can never be avoided completely However stereotypes about Northern England and Northerners seem to be particularly deep rooted and longlasting There is general agreement that they date from the 18th and 19th century when Northern England was the starting point of the Industrial Revolution Jewell 2 When we speak of stereotyped characters we are dealing in particular with traditions deriving from the effects of the Industrial Revolution Morris 9 The stereotypical Northerners are working class people not well educated and their lives are full of struggle and conflict According to many preconceptions a male Northerner is unhealthy badly dressed and frank about sex Further cliché attributes are pragmatic direct and even rude but also down to earth passionate and heartily Northerners feel alienated from the government in the centre London and distinguish between us and them which creates to a strong sense of community In today's pop culture these stereotypes are predominantly media transmitted By using a certain mode of presenting Northern English reality and its inhabitants stereotypes are rather reinforced than replaced in the media Hence there is a specific pattern used to reinforce stereotypes about Northern England and Northerners in films such as in the film Brassed off The most striking features that intensify these clichés in Brassed off are setting language protagonists and 4 topics All these characteristics can be found in the scene when the Grimley Colliery Band practices Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez thus this scene reinforces stereotypes about Northern England to a large extent The Rough Guide to Madrid Simon Baskett, Rough Guides, 2005 Madrid Directions gives you the best of this dynamic city in an easy to use format The Ideas section helps you plan your trip with full colour spreads covering the variety of attractions Madrid has to offer from the best places to eat and drink to
